Alumni Spotlight

Recovery has brought me a newfound sense of freedom, not the kind associated with leaving jail or prison, but freedom from genuine suffering. Since June 14th, 2024, when I entered Waypoint, I was completely unaware of what I was doing. However, during my time there, I persistently sought God, and it became evident that He was listening. I decided to continue my search and throughout the two years of my recovery I have maintained sobriety. I transitioned to sober living, took on the role of behavioral health tech at a treatment facility, earned my peer support certification, facilitated groups in a treatment setting and began working for a nonprofit organization called FAVOR (faces and voices of recovery). I am also certified in Smart Recovery, which allows me to incorporate these meetings into treatment facilities. Had I not been in recovery, I would not have been able to achieve anything. The road of recovery is not always an easy walk but it is the only walk if you want to live and not exist.
